

In 2020, the Jo Walters Trust awarded Bracoden Primary school, near Banff, £1000 to buy forest school equipment. The parent council had already funded staff training so the Jo Walters Trust bought fire lighting equipment, a tarpaulin to provide a sheltered area, various tools, safety equipment, cooking equipment, a hand washing station, first aid equipment, den building/construction equipment and nature observational equipment.

The school has done a brilliant job of getting it all into action when the children returned, and have shared the photographs below. It looks fantastic!
