Description

Mr Roberelli writes songs and music that keep children, and their grown ups, entertained (and educated!). In Double Yolkers, the 3rd album from the New Zealand band, the theme seems to be of wonder at the natural world, we particularly love song 'Favourites in the Natural World', especially the lines:

The mighty hydrangea
Blue, purple and white
I hope I can dream about those lovely blooms tonight

On the back of this song, a three year old we know well surprised her great grandmother recently by pointing out "you've got mighty hydrangeas in your garden Granny Susie".

We're sure your children will also love singing along to 'Tiptoeing Past the Bull' too, and they'll be safe from 'Scurvy' once they know they need to 'suck that yellow fruit'.
